

Join us for a day of training devoted to discussing implementation of the new DoD Instruction 3216.02.

The training curriculum is focused on the responsibilities of the DoD researcher, DoD offices responsible for reviewing and approving exempt and non-exempt human subject research for both intramural and extramural research, DoD IRB offices, and DoD Component headquarters offices.

This training is open to DoD personnel (military and civilian) and contractors employed at DoD facilities in direct support of implementing DoD Instruction 3216.02. This training is not open to civilian organizations receiving DoD funding for research.
