

Human Research Protection Programs

Join us for two days of training devoted to discussing current DoD issues in Human Research Protection.

This training is open to DoD personnel (military and civilian) and contractors employed at DoD facilities in direct support of human subject research. This training is not for organizations receiving DoD funding for research.

This event is highly recommended for DoD Institutional Officials, Institutional Review Board members and staff, Researchers, Component Oversight Officers, Research Contracting Officers, Office of General Counsel, and other DoD officials supporting human subject research.
