

Asthma Clinic

Asthma is a common and chronic respiratory condition. Patients rarely come in to see their physician about their asthma unless they are having an exacerbation.

It is very important for asthmatics to have pulmonary function testing to determine their baseline lung function. Our goal is for all patients to have optimal health. We want to ensure patients that have not been seen lately to address their asthma needs are tested appropriately and are on long term controller meds that offer them the best solution for their symptoms. Therefore, we now offer an Asthma Clinic in which each patient gets spirometry testing, a condition and medication review appointment with the physician, and an Asthma Action Plan.
