

Welcome Aboard from the Commanding Officer

Congratulations on your assignment to Naval Health Research Center (NHRC). As the Commanding Officer, it gives me great pleasure to have you join NHRC's family and to welcome you aboard. You are joining an outstanding command and a wonderful group of people. It is my intent to provide you with a working environment that will afford you the opportunity to excel and realize your full potential as a member of our team. NHRC is focused on enhancing readiness through research, development, testing and evaluation of products to enhance the health, safety and performance of our military forces. Please feel free to peruse our website for more information about NHRC. I look forward to seeing you in the near future.
