

Transiting Terminal 1 to Terminal 4

- Immigration and passport control. Simply present your passport and completed immigrations forms (provided on aircraft) to the immigrations officers (national police). Stay in the right hand booths. The left hand booths are for Spanish and other common market countries (France, Italy, Germany, etc.)
- If you do not have boarding passes for your Iberia flight down to Jerez, you can use Iberia's counter in the luggage claim area. If they're busy, just skip them and proceed to Terminal 4.
- Exit the area that states, "Exit, nothing to declare". Don't worry, they'll just wave you through (they may not even acknowledge your presence). If you stop and ask, they'll probably want to look at your hand carry items. I've didn't have a problem.
- Once you've exited the luggage claim area, go upstairs (just one level) and go outside and get on one of the busses that states "Terminal 4" or something like that. Be sure to ask the bus driver to be sure. There are lots of identical busses, some go to T4, others don't.
- It will be about a 10 minute bus ride and they only stop at T4. Once arrived at T4, either go to an Iberia check-in counter to get your boarding pass, or directly to the gate (if the flight is displayed). This is the most difficult part. They change gate numbers all the time. It's your job to stay on top of which gate to be at. There is T4 and T4S (S is for Satellite). If your gate is at T4S, you will have to take a 5 minute subway ride to the T4 satellite terminal. Once you have to boarding passes, just ask to be sure. All of the Information Desk personnel speak English. Good luck!
