

NMCP Breast Cancer Testimonials:

"Last week my mother, Sonya, was diagnosed with a second occurrence of breast cancer. She went to her outside doctor who sent her to a specialist. She did not receive what I would call 'personal service' and seemed to be hurried out with the doctor's decision that she needed a double mastectomy. This greatly concerned her and she decided to get a second opinion. She called the Naval Hospital and spoke with a nurse in the Breast Clinic.

In my opinion the nurse went WAY ABOVE the 'call of duty' and took the time to listen to my mom and worked it out so my mom could come in and see another doctor at NMCP in record time. When my mom was seen at NMCP, she continued to receive the 'care' 'compassion' and 'understanding' I've long bragged about at NMCP...she received excellent service from everyone - from the front desk clerk to the person taking her vital signs! She felt so much better from her visit at NMCP, that you could see the calmness in her face afterward.

I truly appreciate everything everyone did; they made my mom feel hope for her future and gave her the much needed compassion I believed she deserved from a medical perspective (which she did not receive on the outside)! Thank you ALL for taking the time and truly treating her with kindness, love and understanding! You have a great team working for you in the Breast Clinic!"
