Continuous Readiness

The Department of Pediatrics at Naval Medical Center Portsmouth trains pediatricians and other pediatric professionals to support U.S. combat forces and their families worldwide.

We proudly maintain continuous readiness to deploy as required for combat and humanitarian missions. Historically, 10% of our active duty pediatricians are deployed at any point in time.

Welcome to Pediatrics

The pediatricians and pediatric specialists at Naval Medical Center Portsmouth are dedicated to the care of children, adolescents and young adults. They have been trained at some of the nation's best medical schools including the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, Walter Reed, Stanford, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Baylor, University of Virginia, to name a few. All of our pediatric Faculty are board-certified, active in research and passionate about training the next generation of military pediatricians. The pediatric training program is one of the best in the country with board certification rates well above the national average.* You should expect and we aim to provide nothing but an exceptional visit.

Your expectations of us...

- To listen
- To communicate clearly
- To provide recommendations based on the latest evidence
- To refer to specialty care when indicated
- To coordinate with other professionals
- To provide exemplary care for you and your child
- To work with you to develop a tailored plan that best addresses your needs, your child's needs and your family's needs

Our expectations of you...

- To advocate for yourself and your child
- To partner with us to develop the best possible medical management plan
- To keep us informed of changes in your child's condition
- To think of NMCP first when your child gets ill.

Together, we have been caring for your child. Other facilities would require time to learn about your child and may repeat studies resulting in unnecessary exposure to lab tests and radiation.

- When your child is ill, call us (Call your clinic or 953-7716)
- If you need emergency care or hospitalization, come to NMC Portsmouth

* For the period 2008-2010, NMC Portsmouth was one of only 4 programs nationally with a 100% pass rate. Please visit www.abp.org for the latest data.
