

School Liaison Officers in the Hampton Roads Area

School Liaison Officers (SLOs) are the Navy Subject Matter Experts (SME) for K-12 Education issues. Program implemented and staffed by Commander Navy Installations Command (CNIC) Headquarters, Child and Youth Education.

SLOs work to connect Commanders, Educators, and Parents. The program has six core components: School Transition Support (PCS Cycle); Deployment Support; Communications: Command, Educator, Community, Parents; Partnerships In Education (PIE); Home School Support; and, Post-Secondary Preparation. They assist to provide programs and services that help ensure a "level playing field" for military youth transitioning among installations and school systems. School liaison officers can assist providers and others with resources and referral information concerning educational issues that affect military children.
