Operational Medicine 2007: Healthcare in Military Settings Reference Tool

“Operational Medicine 2007: Health Care in Military Settings Reference Tool”

The Naval Operational Medicine Institute (NOMI) has developed a reference tool for military healthcare providers.

The purpose of the tool is to provide administrative and clinical information and guidance to Naval medical personnel in operational settings.

The Tool is located on NKO in Navy E-learning.

It can be found by going to “Browse Categories”

Clicking on “Department of the Navy (DON) Training”

Then clicking on “Navy Medical Education and Training”

It is located on the last page. It can also be accessed by using the “Advanced Search” feature. The title is “Operational Medicine 2007” and the “Catalog Code” is “opMED2007”.
