

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
NAVY MEDICINE OPERATIONAL TRAINING CENTER
DETACHMENT, NAVAL UNDERSEA MEDICAL INSTITUTE
BOX 159, NAVAL SUBMARINE BASE NLON
GROTON, CONNECTICUT 06349-5159

IN REPLY REFER TO:

Congratulations on your assignment to the Naval Undersea Medical Institute (NUMI)! I am certain you will find this tour both challenging and rewarding.

NUMI is a detachment of the Naval Medicine Operational Training Command, located in Pensacola, FL. NMOTC is the global leader in operational medicine. NUMI's purpose is to provide training in Undersea Medicine and Radiation Health to officers and enlisted Sailors, who will support warfighters in the Submarine and Expeditionary Warfare Forces and who will be consultants in Undersea Medicine and Radiation Health. Each member of the staff is important in executing our purpose and I look forward to working with you as a valuable member of our team. If you are a student checking onboard, recognize now both the honor and responsibility your selection to NUMI implies. Take advantage of the relatively brief time you will spend with us and upon your graduation be prepared to provide the best services possible to the Fleet.

We are located in Groton, CT. Southeastern Connecticut is a vibrant place to live with ocean, mountain and metropolitan activities all within a short distance of our home. To learn more about our command, our base, and the local area please log onto the NUMI website (<http://www.med.navy.mil/sites/nmotc/numi/Pages/NavalUnderseaMedicalInstitute.aspx>)

Again, I look forward to having you as a member of the NUMI team. Welcome Aboard!

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "James Mucciarone".

J. J. MUCCIARONE
Commander, Medical Corps
Officer in Charge