MilitaryINSTALLATIONS Booklet for Naval Station Newport

In-Depth Overview

Special and Critical Installation Information

Defense Service Network (DSN) Dialing Instructions

The DSN is the provider of long-distance communications service for the Department of Defense (DoD). Every installation has a special DSN number and the numbers vary by world-wide location. In order to place a call using DSN, the caller must be using a military phone on an installation. Cell phones cannot dial DSN numbers. When dialing a DSN number from a United States installation to another United States installation, it is unnecessary to dial the DSN 312 area code. When dialing a DSN number to/from overseas locations, the DSN area code must be included. The operator can be reached at commercial (719) 567-1110. Please note that long distance charges may be incurred.

Mission

Naval Station Newport's Mission Statement: The mission of Naval Station Newport is to fulfill the diverse requirements of its tenant commands by providing the facilities and infrastructure that are essential to their optimum performance. NAVSTA Newport will ensure that the highest standards of the Navy are incorporated into its efforts; that all tenant commands will benefit from its continuous improvement; and that all hands will work together to earn and maintain its reputation as the Navy's world-class Center of Learning Excellence.

Naval Station Newport's Vision Statement: The vision of Naval Station Newport is to be a world-class Center of Learning Excellence with the capacity to support the Navy's mission by providing warfighters with education; training; Research, Development, Training and Evaluation (RDT&E) and development capability to meet today's demands and exceed tomorrow's expectations.

History

From its infancy during the Revolutionary War to its present day technology, the United States Navy has been a part of Narragansett Bay. Until the last two decades of the 19th century, a sailor learned most of his trade on the job. In the 1880s, a new concept of shore-based training for officers and enlisted personnel was developed, and the Navy turned to Narragansett Bay. By 1913, the Navy had constructed a Naval Hospital on the mainland of Aquidneck Island.

Newport is the Navy's premier site for training officers, officer candidates, senior enlisted personnel and midshipman candidates, as well as conducting advanced undersea warfare and development systems. Naval Station Newport's mission is to fulfill the diverse requirements of its tenant commands by providing the facilities and infrastructure that are essential to their optimum performance.

Naval personnel assigned to Newport arrive from all parts of the United States and many free nations of the world. The naval installation mirrors a miniature America, flavored with an international touch. The Navy's economic impact in Rhode Island is legendary. For many years, it was the state's largest single employer, both in terms of personnel and payroll. Today, it is still the largest single employer in Newport County and third overall in the state.

Newport is home to the Navy's most prestigious educational institution, the Naval War College. As the oldest institution in continuous existence anywhere in the world, the college is organized to pursue and integrate both academic and research endeavors. Each year, over 500 outstanding mid-career level officers of the Navy, all other US services, civilian federal agencies and international naval officers come here to pursue a rigorous ten month course of post-graduate studies following in the footsteps of such notable War College graduates as ADM Chester Nimitz, Rear ADM Alan Shepard, first American in space, ADM William Fallon, former Commander, US Central Command and others.

The Naval Station Newport homepage, as well as many of the command web sites, have more detailed information on the extensive naval history of our area.

Location

NAVSTA Newport is located in Newport County, in the State of Rhode Island. Newport is both a military and well-known tourist area. For decades, travelers know that Newport County is a small corner of New England with big surprises. The number of attractions, museums, historic sites, bus, boat and walking tours, plus arts and cultural events, festivals and galas keep visitors in a whirlwind of activity. Examples include International Tennis Hall of Fame, Newport's 19th and 20th Century Mansions, The 3.5 mile Cliff Walk, and the Annual Jazz Festival. Newport is considered a high cost living area compared to other towns in the State of Rhode Island.

NAVSTA Newport does not have a base operator, contact the Fleet and Family Support Center for base and local information, 401-841-2283 or DSN 312-841-2283.

Check-In Procedures

Check-in Procedures

When you arrive at your new installation, you'll need to follow installation-specific procedures. Each installation and service handles in-processing differently. Here, you can find installation-specific guidelines and a list of documents to bring with you when checking in. Reach out to the contacts provided if you have specific questions.

Reporting Procedures

Members need to contact their sponsor for command direction about check-in procedures. Member's orders must be endorsed when they initially report. Members need to contact their command pass coordinator to complete their check-in paperwork as soon as they report. After 4 p.m. and on weekends and holidays, contact the command duty officer at 401-862-8378 for assistance in reporting onboard.

Travel Planning

This is an upscale tourist area. Make lodging reservations well in advance of your trip. Check with your sponsor. It is very important to check your orders and ensure all family members are included in the move.

What to do if you get married en route?

If you get married before your permanent change of station move, you must inform your command, and update your dependency application (page 2) and DEERS at your local permanent support detachment. If you get married en route to your ultimate duty station; a member who acquires a dependent on or before the PCS authorization/order effective date, is authorized dependent travel and transportation allowances from the place at which the dependent is acquired to the new permanent duty station, not to exceed the travel and transportation allowances for travel from the old PDS to the new PDS. Appropriate command sponsorship is necessary for transportation to an OCONUS PDS. The PCS authorization/order effective date of your orders is the date of report to your ultimate duty station minus travel days plus one day.

Sponsorship

Sponsorship

Moving is a way of life for service members and their families. Resources like MilitaryINSTALLATIONS, Plan My Move and Military OneSource provide important information to help make moving easier. For many newcomers, a sponsor can help add that personal touch.

A sponsor is assigned by a newcomer's gaining unit and helps the newcomer before, during and after a move. If you haven't been assigned a sponsor, you can request one through your new unit. Units try to match sponsors and service members by rank and family status.

Sponsorship Program

To help prepare sponsors for success, the Sponsorship Program provides training and access to important information and resources that can help newcomers master their move. The Sponsorship Program helps sponsors fulfill their responsibilities, which may include:

- Contacting the service member and family with an introductory email
- Staying in contact with the service member throughout the moving process

- Sending information about the new community and duty assignment, responding to questions and providing information about resources
- Confirming transportation and lodging arrangements
- Helping with post office arrangements
- Meeting service members and family members upon arrival
- Going with service members to unit check-in point
- Introducing service members to the Military and Family Support Center and loan closet, if it's available
- Familiarizing service members and families with the installation and key locations, like the commissary

Note: Responsibilities may vary based on service-specific policies and guidance. Make sure to check with your service branch for sponsor training requirements.

Overall, the Sponsorship Program aims to:

- Provide newcomers with a sense of belonging
- Ease the transition for inbound service members or civilians and their family members
- Increase productivity of service members and loved ones
- Help newcomers make informed decisions
- Cultivate new friendships
- Improve morale

For more information on the Sponsorship Program, contact your installation Military and Family Support Center.

Youth Sponsorship Program

Sponsorship is also available for youth. Installation youth sponsorship programs help military-connected youth make a successful transition to a new community. Primarily directed to preteen and teenaged youth, installation youth programs/centers provide information and materials on programs and services available at their new location. Where available, youth can exchange emails, talk on the phone or chat online with other youth. The youth program staff at your new installation can offer more information on installation youth sponsorship programs.

You can also contact your installation School Liaison Program office for information about school-based youth sponsorship programs such as Anchored4Life and Student2Student. These peer-to-peer programs help your student adjust to and navigate their new school.

If your child would like to become a youth sponsor, contact your installation School Liaison Program or youth program/center.

Families with children may also want to visit Military Kids Connect, an online community for military children and youth. The site offers games, videos and links to teen-led installation tours.

Other

Your command will advise you on where to check in. Newcomer briefings are sponsored by each command. If flying, you will arrive at Rhode Island T.F. Green International Airport approximately 35-40 minutes from base. Taxi service from the airport to Naval Station Newport is approximately $140. Don't forget to make arrangements for your personal mail with your gaining command or through the post office.

Emergency Assistance

Emergency Assistance

If you need emergency assistance, you can expect to get help from your installation, your branch of service resources. There are programs to support you in a variety of situations, including victim assistance, emergencies en route and service-specific relief societies. Below, you'll find types of assistance, contact information, and detailed procedures and guidance to help you through any tough circumstances that you or your family may face.

American Red Cross (ARC)

The American Red Cross is always available for emergency aid anywhere you may be. Contact the nearest chapter (phone numbers are usually listed in the White Pages of the local phone directory). They may be able to help with emergency financial assistance and contacting individuals that will need to know where you are and what's happening. Or to contact an emergency caseworker, call the American Red Cross Armed Forces Emergency Services Center located in Falls Church, Virginia by dialing toll-free: 877-272-7337. The American Red Cross also can help with communications home about family emergencies, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, including verification of death or serious illness of immediate family, birth announcements to fathers deployed overseas, and health and welfare reports resulting from lack of communication over a long period of time.

Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society

The Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society provides active-duty and retired sailors and Marines with emergency financial assistance based upon need. Categories of financial assistance include basic living expenses (food, shelter, utilities), medical/dental not covered by TRICARE, funeral expenses, emergency transportation, essential car repairs and disasters. Quick assist loans up to $500 for certain needs are available to active-duty clients. Other services include a thrift shop, budgeting classes and layettes for new babies.

Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society is open for client assistance Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays from 8:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. The thrift shop is open every Tuesday and Thursday from 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

Important Documents

First of all, make sure you have all your important papers with you – not packed with your household goods. Remember to carry important medical papers, prescriptions and important telephone numbers so that you can contact your sponsor and your next duty station in case an emergency arises. For a more comprehensive list of important documents to hand carry, go to or return to Plan My Move. Select a duty station and click on the button above your calendar to access this list.

Other

Emergencies can happen no matter how much planning you do, so part of your plan needs to be "What if?" If an emergency occurs while in transit and it is possible, contact the nearest military installation for assistance. If you are not near a military installation and/or your emergency occurs after hours, contact the American Red Cross, 877-272-7337. If a financial emergency occurs, you can request Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society assistance through the American Red Cross. Military OneSource is available 24/7 and can provide you with resources by calling 800-342-9647.

Child and Youth

Child and Youth Programs

The Department of Defense takes great pride in the variety and quality of services provided to children and youth on installations worldwide. While the services provided may vary by location, the standards and quality of services are consistent and meet established regulations.

Requesting Child Care

Military families may request child care by visiting MilitaryChildCare.com. This Defense Department online request for care system serves military families worldwide who are seeking child care through child development centers, school-age care programs and DOD certified family child care providers. Families may search for and request care, manage their requests, and update their profile online, simplifying the process for finding child care.

Child care fee assistance is available for eligible families through Child Care Aware® of America. This national organization is contracted to administer the Military Child Care in Your Neighborhood programs, MCCYN and MCCYN-PLUS. These Defense Department programs provide fee assistance to qualifying families who are unable to access installation child care. Visit ChildCareAware.org and select your service branch to learn more about military child care programs in your neighborhood.

Youth Programs

Dynamic programs for youth ages 5 to 18 years are provided in military youth and teen program facilities worldwide. A wide variety of offerings includes activities in health and wellness, sports and recreation, the arts, education and career development, and leadership and service. Installation programs may also collaborate with other youth-serving organizations, like the Boys & Girls Clubs of America and USDA 4-H programs. Programs and services vary by installations, so contact your installation youth programs/center for local information.

Expanded Hourly Child Care Options

Through Military OneSource, military families now have free access to an online database of more than a million caregivers so they can find hourly, flexible, and on-demand child care. This nationally recognized subscription service lets families search based on their own needs and criteria, find potential caregivers, check references and review background checks. They can even interview caregivers through the service. It's easy to access and is an online solution that allows parents to choose, hire and pay caregivers on their terms.

Parents use their Military OneSource account to set up their free access to the child care service. They log in to their existing account or create an account to get a unique subscription code and establish their child care service account.

The Defense Department is dedicated to helping meet the diverse and growing child care needs of military families. For more information about available resources, visit the Military OneSource Child Care Programs page.

School-Age Care Programs

School-age care programs provide care to children in kindergarten through seventh grade. Care is offered before and after school, and during non-school days (e.g. spring break and teacher work days) and summer vacations. School-age care programs may be located in Defense Department youth centers, school age care facilities, child development centers or in other suitable facilities. All programs are certified by the DOD and accredited by a national accrediting body, such as the Council on Accreditation.

Family Child Care

Children, infants to 12 years of age, may receive care in the private home of a certified family child care provider living in government-owned or government-leased housing on or off the installation. FCC providers typically offer a flexible schedule to support parents with a variety of care needs, including full-day, part-day care, school year care, summer camp, and in some cases, 24/7 and extended care. Family child care may also be referred to as family home day care, child development home, and family day care.

Regulations limit the number of children who receive care at any one time to no more than six children under 8 years old, and no more than two children under 2 years old. Family child care providers must be certified by the installation to operate. Individual providers may voluntarily seek national accreditation from the National Association of Family Child Care and are provided local support, training and materials to accomplish this goal.

Subsidies may be available in some family child care homes to assist in the reduction of child care fees beyond what would be paid in the child development center. For more information on fee assistance and subsidies for child care providers, visit ChildCareAware.org.

Child Development Centers

Child development centers, or CDCs, generally offer child care for children ages 6 weeks to 5 years. Care is available Monday through Friday, with some locations offering options such as extended hours, weekend care and respite care. Child development centers vary in size and larger installations may operate multiple facilities. Programs are certified by the Defense Department and accredited by a national accrediting body, such as the National Association for the Education of Young Children. Military families may request child care by visiting MilitaryChildCare.com.

Child Care

Child and Youth Programs provide Child Development and recreational services for children 6 weeks to 12 years of age. The Child Development Center provides full and part day care for children 6 weeks to Kindergarten. The School Age Center provides before and after school care. Call Child Development Center, 401-841-4562.

Child Development Centers (CDC)

The Naval Station Newport Child Development Center provides developmentally appropriate full-day care to children. The Child Development Center provides a safe, enjoyable early learning environment for young children. Quality educational experiences are provided through a stimulating environment.

The goal is to provide opportunities for children to be together in a setting conducive to the development of wholesome social relationships, to provide opportunities for meaningful play based on individual needs, interests, abilities, and provide developmentally appropriate learning opportunities which will build important foundations for the future.

Hours of Operation

The CDC is open 7:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Center is closed on weekends and federal holidays.

Costs

Child and Youth Programs offer full spaces. Hourly care is offered when space is available at a fee of $4.00/hour. CDH providers set their own drop-in rates. For more information please call 401-841-4562.

All military housing residents providing child care in their homes must be certified by the Navy and the state through DCYF. CDH providers offer a safe, healthy environment for children ages six weeks to 12 years that is comparable to the center based programs. Providers plan developmentally appropriate activities for the children in their care. They offer a flexible program which responds to unique needs of military schedules. For more information pertaining to CDH certification or child care referrals, contact the CDH office 401-841-4562.

Programs Offered

- Child Development Center: six weeks through five years of age.
- Child Development Home Programs: six weeks through 12 years of age.
- School Age Care (SAC) has before and after school care for children 5 through 12 years of age. Transportation is only provided for certain Middletown and Portsmouth school districts as well as All Saints Academy.
- Summer Camp: Kindergarten through 13 years of age.

Hourly Care

Hourly Care is available to eligible patrons at $5.00/ hour. Eligible patrons may sign up for hourly care no more than 30 days in advance. Hours per week are limited to 25 hours/ week for CDC, 10 hours/ week for SAC, and 25 hours/week for summer camp. Space is limited.

Eligibility

The status of the sponsor determines enrollment eligibility. Eligible patrons include active duty military personnel, DOD civilian personnel paid from APF or NAF, reservists on active duty or inactive duty for training, DOD contractors and active duty Coast Guard. In the case of legally separated or divorced parents meeting the above criteria, the child is eligible only when they reside with the military sponsor.

Waiting Lists

Central Waiting List (CWL) is maintained for the CDC, SAC, and CDH programs. Patrons are prioritized by their status and the date they completed and filed the required DD2206 form, DOD Child Development Program Request for Care Record with the CDC. Vacancies are filled from the waiting list based on patron status and date on the request.

Priority Care

- Priority 1: A. Active duty single parents with custody and Active duty dual military parents 1.B. All other active duty with a full-time working spouse or spouse who is a full-time student.
- Priority 2. All other active duty with a full-time working spouse or spouse who is a full-time student.
- Priority 3. Reservists on active duty or reservists in training.
- Priority 4. DOD civilian personnel.
- Priority 5. DOD contractors working FT

Respite Care

Respite care is considered our Hourly Care program. Care could also be offered in a CDH.

Youth Services

This CYP facility is closed until further notice.

The Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) Department at Naval Station Newport is an active, on going program that keeps the military children busy and involved.

The Navy Child and Youth Programs provide high quality educational and recreational programs for children and youth. Teams of caring, knowledgeable professionals plan developmentally-appropriate programs that are responsive to the unique needs, abilities and interests of children.

Youth Sports

The Youth Programs offer sports throughout the year through the local YMCA and other community recreational offices, Newport, designed as a recreational outlet for offices.

Summer Camp Program

Summer camp is an outdoor program for children kindergarten to 12 years of age. Our program is designed to enrich young lives by giving boys and girls opportunities for personal growth and achievement. It is supervised by trained youth development professionals - a caring staff that gives special attention to your children! Summer Camp runs from June to August.

Youth Religious Program

Youth religious programs would be found by contacting the base Chapel.

Youth Sponsorship

Helping youth successfully make the transition from one installation to another is the role of the Youth Sponsorship Program. According to the Department of Defense, the primary objectives of the Youth Sponsorship Program are to ensure communities identify and reach out to the incoming youth and help them get adjusted with their surroundings. Our program reaches out by working closely with Balfour Beatty Communities and Operation: Military Kids for distribution of Youth Program events and the School Liaison Officer who assists with our public school connection.

Youth Employment Program

Navy Teen Employment Grants are received through the Department of Defense in the spring. All employees must be 14 years of age or older. Teens work in the Child and Youth Programs and MWR facilities. Grant availability and requirements may change and are based on state and federal regulations.

Youth Centers on Base

The Teen Center is located at 50 Simon Pietri Drive. Hours of operation are Fridays 5:00 - 9:00 p.m. The program is open for youth ages 9-18 years of age.

This CYP facility is closed until further notice.

Education

Education

Each installation provides information about the types of schools and programs offered on or near your installation for your child. Learn about the types of programs, guidelines and requirements for each school. Whether you choose to send your child to a Department of Defense School, a private school or public school, your installation can help you explore all of your options to make the right decision for you and your child.

Local Schools

There are several ways you can gather information about the local school options at your next duty station.

Before moving, either CONUS or OCONUS, connect with your School Liaison Officer regarding schools and important resources. You can find a complete directory of all School Liaison Officers worldwide at <https://www.dodea.edu/partnership/schoolLiasionOfficers.cfm>.

You can also find resources and information about area schools at your next duty station by accessing your installation information through the online tool MilitaryInstallations. Additionally, MilitaryOneSource provides a broad range of information and resources on education, parenting and child care, relocation and the concerns of families with special needs members.

If you have a complex special education situation or require additional assistance, you can connect with and educational consultant through MilitaryOneSource.

All US states and territories have signed the Interstate Compact on Educational Opportunity for Military Children into law. Please refer to the Military Interstate Compact Commission's website www.mic3.net for information about how the Compact can assist you and your children with school transition.

How can I plan for a successful school transition?

It's never too early to start your transition planning. Here are some things you can do even before you have official orders:

- Request copies of your children's records from the school they have been attending. Make sure you hand carry these to your new location.
- Request copies of your children's immunization records and hand carry these to your new location.
- Research deadlines in your new location, such as dates for school registration, sports try-outs, and other extracurricular activities sign-ups.
- Research withdrawal requirements and potential accelerated withdrawal opportunities at your current school.

Use the following resources to help navigate your children's education needs and make school transitions smoother.

- Your installation school liaison is your main point of contact for pre-K - 12 education. School liaisons provide an array of transition support for children. They can help with information about school districts and boundaries, and campus specific programs and activities to ensure you find the best fit for your child's educational and extracurricular needs. School liaisons can also help with transferring school records and credits, registering for classes, locating after school activities and much more.

School liaisons are experts in transition support and well versed in the Interstate Compact on Educational Opportunity for Military Children. If your child will be attending a public or Department of Defense Education Activity school, learn more about successful educational transitions in this Guide for Parents from the Military Interstate Children's Compact Commission.

- Education consultants at Military OneSource can help connect you to a wide variety of education resources, including information about local schools and help finding a tutor in the area for your child.
- If your family has a child with special needs, your local school liaison can connect you with your installation Exceptional Family Member Program, as well as help you navigate your local school special education program. Learn more about EFMP family support and special needs resources.

How do I find out about schools near my new duty station?

There are several ways you can gather information about local school options at your next duty station.

- Your installation school liaison office can provide information about local schools and programs, as well as assist with a variety of transition issues such as transferring credits, registering for classes, locating extracurricular activities and more. They also provide deployment support, college, career and military readiness, scholarship information and more.

- Education consultants at Military OneSource can provide information about local schools and help you find a tutor in the area for your child.
- For information about Department of Defense Education Activity schools, visit the DODEA website.
- The U.S. Department of Education website offers information about student loans and grants, helpful data and statistics and tools such as this Search for Public Schools from the National Center for Education Statistics.

How do I choose a school for my child?

Choosing the right school for children is a priority for families. Some things to think about when choosing a school are:

- What is the student to teacher ratio? How are behavior problems handled? How is different learning styles supported? How are teachers supported? What are expectations for students?
- Does the school offer specific subjects or activities your child is interested in, such as arts, music, foreign language, STEM, JROTC, sports, etc.?
- Does the distance from installation to school fit your family's needs? Especially if you have young children, is school close enough for a quick pick up if they get sick?
- Is there a before and after care program at the school or child care in the area that serves the school?
- Finally, and most importantly, take a tour of the school.

Where do I start?

There are several resources available to help military families with the transition to schools overseas.

- Your installation school liaison office offers a wide array of transition support for children grades pre-K through 12. School liaisons can provide information about local schools, help with transferring credits and registering for classes, provide tutoring and youth sponsorship referrals, and more. If your family has special needs, your school liaison can connect you with your installation Exceptional Family Member Program and help you navigate your school's special education program.
- Military OneSource education consultants are available 24/7 from anywhere in the world. They can provide information on local education options, refer you to education services that best meet your needs and connect you to a wide variety of community resources. Call 800-342-9647, use OCONUS calling options, or schedule a live chat.
- The Department of Defense Education Activity, or DODEA, operates 160 schools worldwide. Learn more about what schools are available to children on military installations. Visit the DODEA website to search for your school by region.

- Your installation's Exceptional Family Member Program, or EFMP, provides support for family's with special needs.
 - All overseas PCSs include screenings for all family members which are completed prior to finalizing an assignment. If a family member presents with a special medical or educational need, the coordination with EFMP begins.
 - The educational screening determines whether or not there are similar education services available in the new location. The screening includes completion of paperwork by you and your child's school. A copy of your child's current IEP is also required so it is very important that your child's current IEP accurately reflects his/her needs.
 - Learn more about EFMP family support and special needs resources.

How do I know what education options are available?

The Department of Defense Education Activity operates schools in 11 foreign countries, Guam and Puerto Rico. DODEA school districts are accredited by U.S. accreditation agencies and maintain high academic standards.

DODEA's student eligibility and preregistration system helps streamline the registration process and allows school officials to better predict school enrollment, make informed decisions regarding teacher and staff requirements, and prepare for special services and supplies. Parents can preregister their children by visiting DODEA Online Registration for Students.

Non-DODEA Schools Program, or NDSP

In international locations where there is no DODEA school, the DODEA provides educational support and financial assistance to defray education costs and help ensure educational continuity through the Non-DOD Schools Program, or NDSP. Command-sponsored school-age dependents of DOD sponsors assigned overseas where a school operated by the DOD is not reasonably available are eligible to apply to the NDSP.

There are many important decisions that coincide with a transition to an overseas assignment without a DODEA school. DODEA NDSP does not approve or certify schools. Families choose the education option that is appropriate for their child. Visit the following websites for more information:

- NDSP School Interactive Map – A tool to assist with locating schools at your assigned duty station. The listing is not all inclusive.
- U.S. Department of State Office of Overseas Schools – See their “Resources” menu for information about child mental health resources, homeschooling, boarding schools, a Foreign Service Assignment Notebook and more.

Parents have the right to choose the educational setting for their child, with authorization up to the NDSP education allowance rate for that location and educational option. For first-time family registration or if adding a new dependent, register with the NDSP by using the NDSP Student Online Registration system.

How do I successfully transition my child to an overseas location?

Start planning for a successful school transition as soon as you learn about your move – the more your child knows about the new location and school, the more confident your child will feel. Learn more about helping your children change schools.

Your installation school liaison office provides an array of transition support for children grades pre-K through 12. School liaisons can provide information about local schools, help with transferring credits and registering for classes, provide tutoring and youth sponsorship referrals, and much more.

Also in attendance will be a Naval College representative from Groton, CT.

Exceptional Family Member Program

Exceptional Family Member Program

When you're moving, your to-do list can seem long enough to fill a packing box. If your family has special medical or educational needs, help is available before, during, and after your move. Enrollment in the Exceptional Family Member Program provides military families with special needs considerations during the assignment process and access to support services to help navigate the medical and educational system.

The Exceptional Family Member Program has three components

1. Identification and enrollment. Enrollment in the EFMP is mandatory for active-duty service members who have a family member with a qualifying medical and/or educational condition. When a family member is identified with special medical and/or educational needs, the special needs are documented through enrollment in the EFMP. The EFMP medical component coordinates identification and enrollment into the EFMP.
2. Assignment coordination. Medical and military personnel work with service members and families to coordinate assignments. While the military mission is the driving force, enrollment in EFMP ensures that a family member's special medical and/or educational needs are considered during the assignment process.
3. Family support. Family support is provided by EFMP Family Support providers at installation family support centers. EFMP Family Support assists families with special needs by helping them identify and navigate programs and services. This includes but is not limited to: information and referral for military and community services, education and outreach, development of family services plans, referral to other military and family support providers, local school and early intervention services information, warm handoffs to EFMP at the next location and non-clinical case management.

Learn more about EFMP in these resources:

EFMP & Me

EFMP for All Ages factsheet

EFMP brochure

EFMP Quick Reference Guide

EFMP videos

EFMP for MillLife Families

Who should enroll in the program?

Family members – a spouse, child or dependent adult – with documented special medical and/or educational needs are required to enroll in the EFMP. This includes family members who:

- Require special medical services for a chronic condition
- Require adaptive equipment, assistive technology devices or services, environmental or architectural considerations for a chronic condition
- Receive ongoing service from a medical specialist
- Have significant behavioral health concerns
- Receive early intervention services or special education services, birth through age 21, or are eligible for these services

Specific EFMP enrollment criteria can be found in Department of Defense Instruction 1315.19

Why enroll in the program?

Enrollment in the EFMP is mandatory for active-duty service members and ensures family members' documented medical and/or educational needs are considered during the assignment coordination process. Through EFMP Family Support, families can receive assistance with navigating military and community support systems.

How do families enroll in the program?

Families can enroll by obtaining paperwork from the EFMP medical point of contact at their local military treatment facility, or from the EFMP liaison at their installation EFMP Family Support office.

You can find your service branch information here: Army, Marine Corps, Navy and Air Force. Members of the National Guard or reserves may enroll in the EFMP according to service-specific guidance.

The forms for enrollment are:

Department of Defense Form 2792: Family Member Medical Summary – this form identifies and documents all medical and mental health needs for family members who may meet criteria for enrollment into the EFMP. The MTF staff or TRICARE-authorized provider will assist your family with EFMP enrollment, and will provide you with the DD2792-Family Member Medical Summary. The form is completed for both children and adults.

Department of Defense Form 2792-1: Special Education/Early Intervention Summary – this form is completed to identify a family member with special educational/early intervention needs. The MTF staff and your public school or DODEA special education staff member will complete the DD2792-1 Special Education/Early Intervention Summary.

What is assignment coordination?

The military mission is the driving force behind the assignment process. Enrollment in the EFMP ensures that family members' documented special medical and/or educational needs are considered in the assignment process.

Assignment coordination occurs when the personnel command requests that Defense Department medical and/or educational professionals review a family member's documented needs to determine availability of services at a projected location. Assignment coordination is important to ensure continuity of care and access to appropriate medical and/or educational services.

How do families access their local EFMP Family Support providers?

Families can access installation EFMP family support providers by contacting their installation EFMP family support office.

If you are unable to locate an installation EFMP family support provider, you can contact Military OneSource to schedule a free and confidential special needs consultation. Expert specialty needs consultants will help you navigate services for your family and connect you with military and community-based support. You can schedule appointments 24/7 by live chat, or by calling 800-342-9647. OCONUS calling options are also available.

Learn more on Military OneSource about EFMP family support.

What is family support?

The EFMP family support function is provided by EFMP family support providers located at the Military and Family Support Center.

Exceptional Family Member Program family support helps service members and their families identify and access programs and services. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Information and referrals for military and community services
- Education and outreach
- Information about available local school and early intervention services
- Warm handoffs to the Exceptional Family Member Program at new locations
- Non-clinical case management, including family services plans

What are special needs consultations?

Along with installation services, families with special needs have enhanced support through Military OneSource special needs consultations. Special needs consultants offer free and confidential, one-stop access to special needs and EFMP materials and resources. Families can inquire about a variety of topics including education, the military health care system, TRICARE coverage, state and federal programs, and more.

Consultations are available by phone or video. You can schedule appointments 24/7 by live chat, or by calling 800-342-9647. OCONUS calling options are also available.

How can families ease the transition to a new school system following a move?

Your installation school liaison is your main point of contact for help with school transitions for children grades pre-K through 12. School liaisons are located at each installation and provide a wide variety of services for students and families, including:

- Information on campus specific programs and courses of study, school districts and boundaries
- Assistance with transferring credits and registering for classes
- Help with locating after-school and extracurricular programs
- Tutoring referrals
- Youth sponsorship referrals
- Special education support and referrals including referral to the Exceptional Family Member Program
- Alternative schooling support
- Deployment support and more

For general moving assistance, your installation Relocation Assistance Program can help you minimize moving stress and get settled in a new duty station. Learn more about relocation assistance services on Military OneSource.

You can also try these other Department of Defense resources for making your special needs move as easy as possible:

- Preparing for your Move is a fact sheet with tips for military families with special needs to consider before, during and after a move.
- Plan My Move is an online tool that helps break moving down into clear, manageable steps. Create checklists that are unique to your family's needs.
- EFMP & Me is another online tool designed to give military families with special needs easy-to-use access to resources anytime, anywhere. Use it to help plan the transfer of support services to make your transition as easy as possible.
- EFMP for MilLife Families is course on MilLife Learning with comprehensive information about services for families with special needs. Topics include:
 - Early intervention services
 - Government assistance programs
 - Child development milestones
 - Individual education plans
 - Post secondary transition
 - Adults with special needs, and more
- Moving with an IEP video
- The Education Directory for Children with Special Needs helps you research special education resources before you move.
- The OCONUS Special Needs Directory provides support information for overseas communities.
- Advance Enrollment for Military Children is a short article with information about the Advance Enrollment initiative. Military children moving to a participating state will no longer have to prove physical residence within the school district boundaries before they enroll.

Moving To a New TRICARE Region

Whether this is your first move, or you're a seasoned professional, moving can be a challenge. A little planning and preparation can help make your move as easy as possible. Try the following Defense Department resources to help you get organized:

- PCS & Military Moves on Military OneSource.mil provides comprehensive moving resources, information and services all in one simple location
- Plan My Move, an online tool that helps break down the moving process into clear, customizable steps, with checklists to help keep you organized and on track

- EFMP & Me, an online tool to help you plan for transition and continuity of support services for your family member(s) with special needs

Make sure your transition is as smooth as possible by visiting Moving on the TRICARE website. Talk to your medical case manager before you move. They can help you find a new doctor and other resources to avoid any interruptions in coverage.

On arrival at your new duty location, you or your sponsor can contact the Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinator at the military treatment facility. They can help if you have questions or need assistance with authorizations for TRICARE Extended Care Health Option, or ECHO, services.

Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinators and Debt Collection Assistance Officers

All TRICARE regional offices and most military treatment facilities are staffed with beneficiary counseling and assistance coordinators who educate beneficiaries and help with TRICARE-related eligibility, enrollment, referrals/authorizations and claims processing questions. If you or your family has more complex needs, contact your TRICARE case manager.

TRICARE debt collection assistance officers are assigned to regional offices and military treatment facilities worldwide. DCAOs assist with confirmed debt collection due to unpaid TRICARE claims. Please note, the debt must be in collections or listed on your credit report.

Federal and State Health Care Programs

Medicaid provides health coverage for eligible individuals and families with low incomes or with special needs. The department of social services or the department of medical assistance may administer the Medicaid program in your state. Supplemental Security Income is a cash assistance program intended to assist adults and children with special needs who have limited resources. Families must reapply after moving to a new state.

Medicaid waivers are state-specific Medicaid programs that provide funding for long-term care services to be provided in the community instead of in nursing homes or hospitals. There may be waitlists for waivers, however many states have agreed to the policy of allowing active-duty military families to enroll in their state of legal residence to get on the wait list.

Learn more about Benefits for Families With Special Needs, or review the Government Assistance Programs course on MilLife Learning.

TRICARE Extended Care Health Option, or ECHO

The TRICARE Extended Care Health Option provides supplemental services to:

- Family members of active-duty service personnel (this includes activated National Guard and reserve service personnel)
- Family members who are covered under the Transitional Assistance Management Program
- Children or spouses of former service members who are victims of abuse and qualify for the Transitional Compensation Program
- Family members of deceased active-duty sponsors while they are considered transitional survivors.

The qualifying family member's disability must be entered properly in the Defense Eligibility Enrollment Reporting System to have access to TRICARE ECHO services.

For qualifying medical and/or educational special needs, TRICARE ECHO offers integrated services and supplies beyond those offered by your TRICARE program option (such as TRICARE Prime and TRICARE Select). See this TRICARE ECHO factsheet for more information, or listen to this TRICARE ECHO webinar on Military OneSource.

Military Treatment Facilities

Military hospitals and clinics are found at military bases and posts around the world. They are also referred to as military treatment facilities. Before you move, find out your new military treatment facility and contact them for local information.

Medical Case Management

Medical case management involves a team of health care professionals who help you and your family find solutions to complex health problems. It is important to let your medical case manager know if you are moving. They can help you connect with a medical case manager at your new location. Learn more about TRICARE case management services.

Transporting Medical Equipment

If your family member has special transportation needs for the move, such as oxygen or a special bed or wheelchair, contact your TRICARE medical case manager. They can advise you on equipment and transportation.

You can also contact your current installation's household goods/transportation office \(outbound\) for information on special procedures for transporting medical equipment.

Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP)

The EFM Program is a mandatory enrollment, quality of life program per OPNAVINST 1754.2 (series) that identifies dependents with chronic medical, dental, mental health, developmental and/or educational conditions requiring special care and services. The EFM Program provides family support throughout the sponsor's career and ensures consideration of the family's needs during the assignment process by ensuring availability of necessary resources at the prospective duty station. Service members are required to enroll when the special needs are identified or at least twelve months prior to their projected rotation date. This provides your detailee time to work your next assignment and consider your family's special needs as well as your career needs and the Navy's needs.

The EFM program is open to any authorized family member who meets the following criteria: chronic medical, dental, mental health, developmental and/or educational considerations requiring special care and services; enrolled in DEERS; and residing with sponsor (excluding geographic bachelors and family members living in residential care facilities).

EFMP issues should be referred to the EFMP Liaison at Naval Station Newport's Fleet and Family Support Center. Call (401) 841-2283 during office hours: Monday through Friday 0730-1600.

The EFMP Case Manager at Navy Medicine Readiness and Training Command (NMRTC) New England can be reached at (401) 841-6041.

Background

The Education Directory for Children with Special Needs provides information to help you make informed educational decisions for your child with special needs. The directory provides information about:

- Different kinds of resources for school-age children with special needs
- Early intervention service providers and resources for infants and toddlers
- How to locate early intervention agencies and public school districts near your new installation before you move
- How to make moving and school transitions easier

The directory has two parts:

- The Early Intervention Directory lists early intervention services for children birth through age 3
- The School-Age Directory lists education services for children age 3 through 21

Children from Birth to 3 Years of Age

All states and territories must provide early intervention services to children who have, or are at risk for having, developmental delays, from birth to their third birthday.

Most CONUS locations, local school districts or health departments provide these early intervention services. The program is called different names in different areas, but it is often referred to as Part C because that is the section of the law that pertains to early intervention. The Education Directory for Children with Special Needs has a list of resources specific to each state to help you determine who you should contact. Your installation EFMP Family Support provider can also answer your questions.

If you are moving OCONUS or to a CONUS location with a DODEA school (and you live on installation), your child will receive EIS through the Defense Department's Educational and Developmental Intervention Services, or EDIS, program.

When moving, you should hand carry copies of your child's most current individual family service plan, or IFSP, and the most current evaluation reports to your new home to ensure they are not lost.

Children Between 3 and 21 Years of Age

All states and territories provide special education and related services to eligible children between the ages of 3 through 21.

When a child transfers to a different district in the same state, the new school must provide a free, appropriate public education, including comparable services, until the previously held IEP is adopted or a new one is developed and implemented. When a child transfers to another state, the receiving school must provide comparable services until an IEP review can determine if a new evaluation or IEP is appropriate.

If you are moving and your child receives special education and related services, you should hand carry all necessary school and medical documents, including the most current IEP and current evaluation reports. Hand carrying these documents ensures that they are not lost and allows the new school to begin the process as soon as you arrive.

The Fleet and Family Support Program, Naval Station Newport is located at 1260 Peary St., Newport, Rhode Island 02841. Hours of operation are Monday - Friday, 7:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. and can be reached at 401-841-2283 or DSN 312-841-2283.

Family Deployment Support

Newport is a shore-based command. However, the Newport Fleet and Family Support Program does provide pre- and post-deployment programs to Individual Augmentees, Reserve units, National Guard or specific groups that may be deployed such as Navy Medicine and Readiness and Training Command New England. Newport FFSP works closely with command ombudsmen, command IA coordinators and others to support any deployment requests.

Employment Opportunities

Newport and the rest of Aquidneck Island depend heavily on the wholesale, retail trade and services catering to summer residents and tourists. There is a spike in hiring during the summer months. Those seeking professional and blue-collar positions frequently must commute 30 to 60 minutes yet, overall, employment prospects are fair.

The unemployment rate for Newport, according to the Rhode Island Department of Labor and Training as of April 2022, is 2.2%.

There are good employment prospects in the hospitality, retail, customer service, clerical and some medical fields.

Employment prospects on-station are available at Morale, Welfare and Education; Navy Exchange; Non-Appropriated Fund; and the Navy Federal Credit Union.

Rhode Island's minimum wage for 2022 is $12.25 per hour and hourly rates run between that amount and $19.00.

NetWORKri is Rhode Island's one-stop career center system, a partnership of professional labor, training and education organizations. The netWORKri centers are conveniently located throughout the state where job seekers and employers are matched through quality employment programs and services. One-stops can be found in Pawtucket, Providence, West Warwick and Woonsocket.

Important Rhode Island Department of Labor and Training telephone numbers include:

- NetWORKri career center (Providence): 401-462-8900
- NetWORKri career center (West Warwick): 401-462-4100
- NetWORKri career center (Woonsocket): 401-235-1201
- Real Jobs Rhode Island: 401-462-7574
- Veteran Services/unemployment: 401-415-6772
- Veteran Services/workforce development: 888-616-JOBS or 888-616-5627

Employment Documentation

For job hunting purposes, be sure to hand-carry all employment records and documents, resumes, Standard Form 50, transcripts, certificates and licenses.

Transition Assistance Program

Naval Station Newport hosts a five-day Transition Assistance Program seminar eight times a year. In addition, there are four two-day seminars held each quarter (employment, entrepreneurship, vocational/technical and higher education). The Fleet and Family Support Center also offers workshops each month on employment issues.

Tuition Assistance Program

The My Career Advancement Account Scholarship Program is a workforce development program that provides financial assistance for licenses, certifications or associate degrees to those pursuing an occupation or career.

For information on MyCAA, and Military Spouse Education and Career Opportunities, visit Military OneSource.

The Department of Navy Credentialing Opportunities On-Line (DoN COOL) represents the joint effort, close coordination and shared resources that support the Navy and Marine Corps COOL programs. Credentialing is becoming ever more important across the DoD, adding value for Sailors and Marines while they serve and as they transition to civilian life. DoN Civilians can also benefit from credentialing as part of their personal and professional development. DoN COOL reflects the Department of the Navy's ongoing commitment to Sailors, Marines, and Civilians in providing world class training, experience, and opportunities that will serve them well on active duty, Federal service, and post-service civilian careers.

For information on DoN COOL, visit <https://www.cool.navy.mil/>.

SkillBridge is an excellent opportunity as for service members as they plan for life after the military. SkillBridge matches civilian opportunities to job training and work experience at the end of their military duty. In addition to opportunities such as Tuition Assistance and the GI Bill program, service members can enhance their marketability and career prospects by participating in a SkillBridge opportunity.

Any rank, enlisted or officer, may apply for SkillBridge. SkillBridge permits service members to use up to the last 180 days of Service to train and learn with an industry partner. During SkillBridge participation service members continue to receive military compensation and they are covered by their military benefits. Release for SkillBridge is always mission-dependent and your unit Commander must authorize participation prior to entering into any agreement with interested industry employment partners.

For information on SkillBridge, visit <https://skillbridge.osd.mil/>.

Unemployment Benefits

In Rhode Island, voluntarily leaving without good cause: An individual who leaves work voluntarily without good cause shall be ineligible for waiting period credit or benefits for the week in which the voluntary quit occurred and until he or she establishes to the satisfaction of the director that he or she has subsequent to that leaving had at least eight weeks of work, and in each of those eight weeks has had earnings of at least 20 times the minimum hourly wage as defined in Chapter 12 of this title for performing services in employment for one or more employers subject to chapters 42-44 of this title. For the purposes of this section, voluntarily leaving work without good cause shall include voluntarily leaving work with an employer to accompany, join or follow his or her spouse in a new locality in connection with the retirement of his or her spouse.

Other

Newport and the rest of Aquidneck Island depend heavily on the wholesale and retail trade and services catering to summer residents and tourists. There is a spike in hiring during the summer months. Rhode Island, smallest of the 50 states, is densely populated and highly industrialized. It is a major center for jewelry manufacturing, electronics, metal, plastic products, and boat and ship construction are among other important industries. Nonmanufacturing employment includes research in health, medicine and the ocean environment. Providence is a wholesale distribution center for New England.

Fishing ports are at Galilee and Newport. Rural areas of the state support small-scale farming, including grapes for local wineries, turf grass and nursery stock. Tourism generates over a billion dollars a year in revenue.

The unemployment rate for Newport, according to the Rhode Island Department of Labor and Training as of April 2022, is 2.2%.

Financial Assistance

Financial assistance is offered for active-duty service members and family members inclusive of individual consultations and financial programs and workshops. Examples of programming include consumer awareness (identification theft and predatory lending), a homebuying workshop, developing your spend plan, saving and investing, car buying, reading your credit report, the Thrift Savings Plan, and the Blended Retirement System. The Newport Fleet and Family Support Center's personal financial manager can work with you to prepare a personalized budget and spending plan. Information and assistance are also available in areas such as military pay and allowances, consumer tips, savings, insurance, and credit card management.

Cost of Living

Newport is a high-cost area. Many people arriving into this area are not prepared for the cost of living. The cost of apartments and homes can be up to twice the cost in other areas of the country. A security deposit for a home or apartment is usually equal to one month's rent.

According to RentData.org, for fiscal year 2022, the Newport-Middletown-Portsmouth Rhode Island Department of Housing and Urban Development Metro Fair Market Rents (Newport County) study found rent for a studio or efficiency is $1,142 per month and $2,918 per month to rent a house or an apartment with four bedrooms. The average fair market rent for a two-bedroom home in Rhode Island is $1,272 per month.

Auto insurance requirements

Insurance is mandatory in Rhode Island. You must carry liability at the minimum and your insurance company must be licensed to do business in the state of Rhode Island. Check with your current insurance company to make sure they are licensed. If not, you will have to switch companies.

General Program Description

The Family Advocacy Program, or FAP, is the Defense Department program designated to address domestic and intimate partner abuse, child abuse and neglect, and problematic sexual behavior in children and youth. FAP works on every military installation where families are assigned, and supports service members, their spouses, partners and families to prevent abuse, promote victim safety and offer treatment and rehabilitation for healing after a traumatic event has occurred.

FAP directly provides or coordinates a range of services for individuals and families impacted by violence, abuse and neglect. Program services may vary by installation. FAP services are designed to:

- Identify and build on individual and family strengths, through services such as parenting support for every age and stage, including New Parent Support visits for expecting and new parents

- Increase protective factors that have been found to reduce risk, through community-based public awareness campaigns, education and support for military members, intimate partners, spouses and parents
- Promote the safety and well-being of service members and their families, through safety planning, advocacy and crisis support for victims of domestic/intimate partner abuse, and clinical treatments for victims, abusers, and all affected family members, as appropriate

Prevention, education and outreach

Family Advocacy Program prevention, education and outreach services vary by installation and may be offered in coordination with military or civilian partners. Contact your installation Family Advocacy Program or Military and Family Support Center for local listings. Services may include the following:

- Life skills education and training on topics including healthy ways to manage stress and relationship conflict
- Seminars on healthy relationships, communication and conflict resolution
- Parenting support, including the New Parent Support Program, playgroups, and online learning opportunities such as Thrive, to help parents build skills in raising children at every age and stage
- Counseling or referrals to services tailored to meet specific service member, spouse, or partner needs and schedules

Child abuse and neglect

If you have concerns about a child's welfare or safety, whether at home or in the care of a Defense Department child or youth program, contact the following for assistance:

- Your local Family Advocacy Program.
- Your local child welfare agency, your state's child abuse reporting line or the Childhelp National Child Abuse Hotline at 800-4-A-Child (422-4453). A comprehensive list of child welfare agencies for each state can be found at ChildWelfare.gov.
- For concerns about child abuse and/or neglect in a Defense Department child or youth program or school, call your installation Family Advocacy Program or the Department of Defense Child Abuse and Safety Violation Hotline at 800-790-1197 in the United States, or 571-372-5348 overseas. Please note: The DOD Child Abuse and Safety Violation Hotline is for reporting purposes only, and is not a crisis line for help in an emergency.
- If you have concerns a child is being exploited online, call the FBI Cyber Tip Line, operated by the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, at 800-843-5678.

Call 911 or military law enforcement if you witness abuse or neglect or suspect a child is in imminent danger.

Domestic abuse

If you or someone you care about is seeking support for domestic abuse, confidential assistance is available. See the options below for information, support and services:

- Domestic abuse victim advocates are available 24/7 through your installation Family Advocacy Program.
- You can also call Military OneSource at 800-342-9647 to be connected to your closest Family Advocacy Program.
- For support outside of the military, you can connect with a victim advocate through the National Domestic Violence Hotline 24/7 by calling 800-799-7233 or visiting thehotline.org for chat services. En Español: <https://espanol.thehotline.org/>

Call 911 or military law enforcement if you witness domestic abuse, or you or someone you know is in immediate danger.

Restricted report

Domestic abuse victims may choose to make a restricted report which provides access to the full range of FAP services, including counseling provided by credentialed FAP clinicians, and support from a victim advocate to develop a safety plan. With a restricted report, military law enforcement and command will not be notified. Only three groups of professionals have been granted the authority to keep information about domestic abuse confidential under the restricted reporting option:

- Family Advocacy Program victim advocates
- FAP clinicians
- Health care providers (Note: There are some state-specific laws that may require health care providers to report known or suspected incidents of domestic abuse to law enforcement regardless of victim's wishes. Check with your local FAP program for additional information.)

While victims are also entitled to the protections of privileged communication with a chaplain, disclosing domestic abuse to the chaplain is not a report and will not connect victims to FAP services. In the event a victim seeking a restricted report is in imminent risk of harm, or someone else is at risk, an unrestricted report must be made so that law enforcement can respond.

For more information see the Military OneSource article Domestic Abuse: Military Reporting Options.

Unrestricted report

If a victim chooses to make an unrestricted report of domestic abuse, both command and law enforcement are notified. Victims have access to support and protection from command, such as a No Contact Order or a Military Protection Order. Victims have access to the full range of services, including medical care, counseling, victim advocacy and safety planning. With an unrestricted report, victims may also seek legal services through the military, and work with a victim advocate to apply for transitional compensation, if applicable.

For more information see the Military OneSource article Domestic Abuse: Military Reporting Options.

Eligibility requirements

Family Advocacy Program services are available to service members and family members eligible for care in a military treatment facility. This includes intimate partners who share a child in common with a service member, live with or previously lived with a service member. Dating partners and others may qualify for limited support and referrals as appropriate. Contact your installation Family Advocacy Program for details.

General Program Description

The New Parent Support Program is a team made up of nurses, social workers and home visitation specialists who offer support and guidance by helping parents:

- Build strong, healthy bonds with their infants and toddlers that will lay the foundation for their social and emotional development
- Manage the demands of parenting, especially when impacted by deployments and other military operations
- Remain flexible and responsive when navigating daily life
- Build a strong support network
- Respond to infant and toddler behavior sensitively and be attuned to their developmental needs
- Find services in the local community in time of need

Learn more about the New Parent Support Program and contact your installation New Parent Support Program office to find out what's available at your installation.

Staff Qualifications

New Parent Support Program staff are child development professionals, including registered nurses, clinical social workers, and para-professionals trained in the delivery and practice of established home visiting models. The program is supervised and monitored at the installation level by the Family Advocacy program manager.

Eligibility

The program is available to military families who are expecting a baby or have children age 3 or younger. Marine Corps eligibility includes families with at least one child under 5.

Enrollment

Contact your installation New Parent Support Program office or Family Advocacy Program office.

Other

The New Parent Support Program is not available at Naval Station Newport. Clinical counseling from the Newport Fleet and Family Support Center provides one-on-one assistance at 401-841-2283. Community referrals are made as needed.

Women, Infants, and Children is a health program that offers nutritional advice, links to community services, breastfeeding support and healthy food vouchers to Rhode Island families who qualify. Fathers, grandparents or foster parents with young children may also apply for WIC. The program serves babies and children up to the age of five, pregnant and breastfeeding women, and new mothers. WIC helps children be the healthiest they can be, have better diets and growth rates, and be better prepared for school. It also helps pregnant women and new mothers experience healthy pregnancies and raise healthy babies with practical breastfeeding and infant feeding advice.

WIC Newport is affiliated with the Eastbay Community Action Program and can be reached by calling 401-619-5970. WIC Newport is located at 6 John H. Chafee Blvd., Newport, RI 02840.

Legal

Legal Assistance

Legal assistance is available to you and your family. Below, you'll find information about claims and installation specific programs and services. If you have questions, reach out to the legal assistance program at your installation.

Legal Services

Region Legal Services Office, Mid-Atlantic Branch Office Newport, provides legal services to ship and shore commands, active-duty personnel and their family members as well as retirees and their family members throughout greater New England. Walk-in appointments are for powers of attorney and notary ONLY. All other issues require an appointment. For an appointment, call 401-841-3766, ext. 200. Walk-in hours are Monday, Wednesday and Friday 9a.m. – 11 a.m. and noon – 2 p.m.

Types of Services

Legal Assistance services include:

- Helping tenants resolve disputes with their landlords
- Providing basic advice on consumer protection law
- Advising clients with basic divorce questions, child custody disputes and non-payments of child support
- Assisting clients with immigration paperwork
- Drafting wills and providing general estate planning advice

Note that we are unable to represent clients in civilian court.

Health

Health Care

Health care services provided by the Defense Department are available to you and your family at your installation. We know that finding the right health care is important, especially in special circumstances such as emergency or during recent move. Here, you'll find information and options about the services you have regarding healthcare.

Medical Services

Call the Naval Ambulatory Care Center at 401-841-3771 or the Dental Clinic at 401-841-2541. Navy Medicine Readiness and Training Command New England-Newport provides a full range of inpatient and outpatient services for the naval shore activities and fleet units of the operating forces, dependents of armed services personnel and other authorized beneficiaries.

Moving with TRICARE

When you move, TRICARE moves with you. No matter where you go in the world, TRICARE is there before, during and when you get to your next duty station.

There are steps you need to take to make sure changes to your TRICARE coverage go smoothly. Understand that when you move, you may have to use a different TRICARE option. Visit TRICARE Moving to learn more.

Getting care along the way

Before you move, you should take care of any routine medical needs, including immunizations, and fill your prescriptions so you have enough while traveling. If you need care during your move, visit TRICARE Getting Care When Traveling to learn what to do.

Filling prescriptions while traveling

You should refill prescriptions before traveling. But if you run out of a prescription drug while traveling, visit TRICARE Filling Prescriptions When Traveling.

Getting dental care while traveling

Getting dental care while traveling depends on your location and whether you are a service member or family member.

- If you are an active-duty service member within the United States or in U.S. territories, and near a military installation, you may be able to get emergency dental care at the dental treatment facility, or DTF, if available. If not, contact the TRICARE Active Duty Dental Care Program before you see a dentist and tell the contractor about your move. You will need to get an authorization before you see a dentist. The Active Duty Dental Care Program will work with you, so you can get care from a local network dentist.

- If you are an active-duty service member at an overseas location, call the TRICARE overseas regional call center to get authorization before you see a civilian dentist.
- If you are an active-duty family member within the United States, in U.S. territories or at an overseas location, you can find out if any nearby military dental treatment facility treats active-duty family members. If you're enrolled in the TRICARE dental program, call the TRICARE dental program contractor or visit their website to find a provider. You will need to get an authorization before you see the dentist.

Permanent change of station for active-duty service members

With permanent change of station orders, ask for a copy of your medical and dental records from your military treatment facility and the dental treatment facility. Do this at least one month before your PCS date. The MTF should also transfer a copy of your record and any family records to your new duty station or you may be able to hand carry them to your new duty station.

If you want someone else to be able to get medical or dental information on you or your family while you are moving, you need to complete a DD Form 2870, "Authorization for Disclosure of Medical or Dental Information."

For more information on getting copies of medical records, visit TRICARE Request Copies of Medical Records.

Medical Care

Navy Medicine Readiness and Training Command New England - Newport is located at the south end of the Naval Station Newport complex at 43 Smith Road. NMRTCNE-Newport delivers primary care in the Patient-Centered Medical Home or Home Port model with a full range of care. Surgical care is also available for naval shore activities, fleet units of the operating forces, dependents of armed services personnel and other authorized beneficiaries.

Outpatient services include family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics, general surgery, orthopedics, sports medicine, podiatry, ophthalmology, dermatology, psychiatry, psychology, deployment health, flight medicine, and ear, nose and throat.

NMRTCNE-Newport has an external partnership agreement with Newport Hospital and many of NMRTCNE-Newport's physicians are on the medical staff at Newport Hospital.

Appointments for primary care can be made by calling 888-NAVY-MED or 888-628-9633. Surgical care is arranged by referral. Medical treatment from Civilian Sources Information on TRICARE can be obtained by calling 877-TRICARE or 877-871-2273.

Dental Care

The Dental Clinic is located across the street from the commissary and provides dental care to Navy and Marine Corps personnel and other authorized beneficiaries. Dental services available include periodic dental exams and dental hygiene treatment, dental sick call, restorative dentistry, periodontics, endodontics, oral surgery and prosthodontics.

Active-duty family members and retirees may obtain routine and preventive dental treatment on a limited space-available basis; however, enrollment in the United Concordia or Family Member Dental Plan is strongly recommended as the best means to obtain comprehensive dental care. Sick call appointments are at 9-10 a.m. or 1-2 p.m. and are space available. After-hours dental emergencies are also seen by contacting the duty dental technician via the quarterdeck.

An annex dental clinic is located at the Naval War College for the convenience of Naval War College staff and students receiving periodic dental exams and hygiene treatment. Patients are seen by appointment and space-available walk-in.

A Dental Readiness Clinic serves active-duty and activated reservists with orders in a convenient format to coordinate the dental and medical portions of the Periodic Health Assessment in a single day. Contact the Individual Readiness Medical Clinic for further information.

Moving Household Goods

A PCS or military move can be a challenge, especially if you have a lot of stuff. Breaking down your to-dos into more manageable pieces often helps. Here, you’ll find out how to handle household goods, manage your pet and guidelines on the shipping process.

Your installation household goods/transportation office can provide assistance with understanding your entitlements and shipping your personal property. For information on shipping your vehicle, check out the Personal Property Resources page on MilitaryOneSource.mil, or visit the PCSMYPOV website.

Moving Resources

To help customers access moving resources more easily, Move.mil has moved to the Military OneSource website. Now, moving resources from the Defense Personal Property Program and Military OneSource are available on the Military OneSource website.

Visit the Moving Your Personal Property page on MilitaryOneSource.mil for comprehensive moving information, resources and services. Begin to plan what items will go in unaccompanied baggage, in your household goods shipment and in long-term, Non-Temporary Storage, or NTS, storage – check with your sponsor or overseas housing office to assist in determining what items to ship.

Pets

Moving with your pet includes researching airline requirements and quarantine restriction laws in your new location. Many airlines have requirements for size, weight, breed, number of animals, kennel construction, documentation and seasonal limitations. Small pets may be shipped on military flights, but availability and regulations frequently change. Contact your installation household goods/transportation office to request specific country instructions. Military OneSource can make your move easier with helpful tips, resources and hands-on information related to moving with pets and more.

Licensing, Vaccinations, and Registration

Information regarding pet vaccinations, licensing and registration can be found at the animal laws and statutes website.

Every owner of a dog shall obtain a license annually in April in the office of the city or town in which the owner resides. No city or town will issue a license unless the dog has been inoculated against rabies. Every owner of a dog applying for a license shall furnish the town with the name and address of the owner, breed, sex, color and name of dog to be licensed. The town will assign a registered number for each dog licensed. No license shall be required for any dog under the age of six months. No license fee is imposed on any thoroughbred dogs kept for breeding and stud purposes provided that the dog is owned by a breeder or exhibitor of thoroughbred dogs and kept in a breeding kennel. Licensed dogs must wear a collar around its neck with its owners name and registered number. Any dog over six months of age must be vaccinated against rabies annually.

Other information regarding Town Regulations, Collaring, Damage Done by Dogs, Rabies Control, Dogs Chasing Deer, Regulation of Vicious Dogs and Animal Care can be found on above web-site.

Boarding

No animal boarding available on base. Gather information from the Internet to find a listing of local kennels. Average cost for boarding a dog is between $39.00 per day depending on size, cats cost $25.00 per day.

Veterinary Services

The Naval Station Newport Veterinary Clinic is open on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Fridays from 0800-1600. Pets are seen by appointment only. Available services include wellness exams, minor sick call exams, vaccines, heartworm testing, microchips, limited prescription medications, heartworm prevention, and over-the-counter flea and tick prevention. We also provide PCS health certificate examinations.

Patrons may contact the Newport Veterinary Clinic at 401-841-3994 to schedule an appointment at the facility. If you have not yet brought your dog or cat to the clinic, please stop by during duty hours with all previous medical history to register prior to making an appointment. We recommend establishing care with a civilian veterinary in the local community in case of emergencies.

The clinic is closed for all federal holidays and at 1400 on the last working day of the month for inventory.

Pet Travel

Health

Nothing can waylay a trip with an animal faster than a health problem, and your pet's well-being should be of primary importance to you. Your pet will be subjected to conditions guaranteed to cause stress to your animal. A clean bill of health is an important first step in assuring your pet's ability to adjust safely to unfamiliar surroundings. In addition, most states and countries require recent health certificates and disease inoculation documentation before you will be allowed to cross borders, making a trip to the veterinarian mandatory. Even if you are traveling within your own state boundaries, it is a good idea to have your pet examined and inoculated. Your pet will be "out of his own back yard" and subject to contact with unknown animals. His chances of contracting disease or infection greatly increase. Have your pet examined by a licensed veterinarian, preferably one who has cared for the animal on a regular basis. Ask the doctor to prescribe a motion sickness pill or sedative as a preventive measure. Don't tranquilize your animal automatically. Sedated animals are more likely to develop problems. (Note: Motion sickness pills are preferable to tranquilizers.) NEVER give your pet tranquilizers without your vet's approval and NEVER give an animal any medication that has been prescribed for human use. Avoid traveling with an animal during extreme weather.

Identification

A disaster in the making is a pet in transit without identification. Dogs break free from leashes. Cats dash out of cages cracked open for just a second. The opportunity for pets to be separated from their owners are numerous. Avoid the potential loss of a beloved pet by purchasing a comfortable collar (elastic for cats) for your pet bearing complete identification tags. The information should include your pet's name, your name, address and phone number. A license tag is also necessary and can be obtained from your local humane organization. (If your pet is a cat who has never worn a collar, allow time for the cat to become accustomed to wearing something around his neck.) As an additional safeguard, you may want to consider micro-chipping your pet information as a permanent form of identification. Then, if your pet breaks free of both carrier and collar, he can still be positively identified.

Carriers

The carrier in which your pet will be spending most of his trip is of the utmost importance. In fact, the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) has very specific regulations for cages/crates used to transport animals interstate or internationally. Your pet must have room to turn freely while in a standing position and be able to use normal movements in order to stand erect or lie down in a natural position.

Construction - Crates should be constructed of metal, wood or heavy plastic of sufficient strength to withstand the rigorous handling it will receive while your animal is in transit. The carrier must have a solid bottom to prevent leakage. Line the bottom with shredded paper or other absorbent material.

Include a familiar blanket and a favorite toy in the carrier. It will make your pet more comfortable and less frightened. NOTE: Airlines are a good place to purchase carriers that meet all requirements, and they are generally cheaper than if purchased at a pet store.

Housing

If you and your pet plan to stay in a hotel, motel or inn, call in advance to check if pets are allowed and to make reservations. It is not a good idea to try and "sneak" a pet in or announce upon your arrival that the reason you need a double room is that your Great Dane is staying with you. You and your pet could be left without a place to stay. (Gaines Pet Foods Corporation publishes "Touring with Towser", a directory of domestic hotels and motels that accommodate guests with dogs. It is available for a nominal fee by writing to Gaines TWT, P.O. Box 5700, Kankakee, IL 60902.)

If you plan to board your pet at your destination point, reservations are also necessary, especially during the heavy travel periods of holidays and summers. Try to obtain a reliable recommendation for a boarding kennel. (The American Boarding Kennels Association in Colorado, Springs, CO publishes "How to Select a Boarding Kennel" and will make recommendations over the phone when they're not too busy. Member kennels are listed for the United States and Canada. Call 303-591-1113 for information.

Air Travel

Air travel has become the most common way to transport animals. Unfortunately, it is also the most stressful and most fraught with potential hazards.

Safe environment - Animals are permitted in both the cabin and cargo sections of airplanes. Pet owners often prefer to have their companion pet in the cabin section with them, and this is possible, but only under the following circumstances:

- Reservations must be made as early as possible with the airline. Regulations differ from airline to airline, but generally only one animal per flight is allowed in the cabin and permission is granted on a first come, first serve basis.
- Animals traveling in the cabin are considered "carry-on luggage" by airlines, and as such must meet the same criteria as any baggage in that category. In other words, the pet carrier must fit under the seat. Obviously this restricts the carry-on option to very small animals. (A fee is usually charged).
- Be sensible where your pet's safety is concerned. It is better to have your pet in the cargo section of a plane in a carrier of the proper size than to try and "jam" a dog or cat into a too small carrier just so the animal can be in the cabin with you.

In most cases, animals must fly in the cargo section of the plane where conditions can be hazardous for animals. The danger of air travel is not, however, in flying, but rather during "down time" when your pet is loaded, unloaded or waiting in an unsheltered area and exposed to the elements. While on the plane hazards are usually caused by the delays which result in time spent on the runway before take-off or after touchdown when the plane's compartments are not air pressurized. During that time your pet is confined in the cargo hold and deprived of fresh air, and temperatures can fluctuate from very hot to very cold in short periods of time. Pets who are tranquilized are especially susceptible to breathing problems, as are breeds such as bulldogs, pugs and Pekingese who have short-faced heads.

Travel by Car

In many ways, traveling with your pet by automobile is the most humane way to go. Although time spent in transit is greatly increased for long distances, the benefits of having your pet with you at all times cannot be overestimated. And, if you heed the following recommendations, both of you will arrive at your destination safely.

Unless your pet is already accustomed to being in an automobile, take the time to acclimate your pet to the motion and sounds of your car by taking short drives prior to leaving on a longer trip. (This precaution may eliminate the need to administer a motion sickness pill or tranquilizer.) Bring a pet carrier, and if the animal has never, or rarely, been in it, allow time for him to become familiar with it. This is especially important if your pet is undisciplined. An undisciplined animal is a menace in a car.

- Take along your pet's food and water bowls, blanket or bedding and a favorite toy to give him a touch of home.
- Your pet should never be permitted to ride in the front seat, jump around the car or hang out a window. This is dangerous for both the animal and driver.
- It is best not to feed an animal for several hours before leaving on a trip. Bring food and fresh water with you and stop regularly once the animal has had a chance to settle down.
- If your traveling companion is a cat, bring a litter pan and litter with plastic bags for changing purposes. If a dog is traveling, it is imperative to stop frequently so that he can exercise and relieve himself.
- NEVER LEAVE YOUR PET ALONE IN A PARKED CAR. In summer, it takes only minutes for the heat to climb to more than 120 degrees, even in the shade. In winter, closed cars become refrigerators on wheels and the cold is as dangerous as summer heat. (In some states it is against the law to leave an animal alone in a car.)

- Check your pet frequently so that you can easily tell when he is hungry, thirsty, hot or tired.

Transportation

Motor Vehicles

Figuring out the best way to get around is important when you're in a new installation. It's useful to understand the various regulations, local laws as well as license and registration requirements. Whether you need a driver's license, transport a car overseas or want help buying a car, there are people to assist you at your new installation. Check out the topics below to find information and regulations on vehicles and registration at your base.

Registration and Licensing Requirements

State laws vary when it comes to motor vehicle insurance requirements, licensing and registration. The term vehicle generally includes automobiles, motorcycles, vans, trailers and boats regularly parked or garaged overnight. Service members and their families will want to understand their state's laws on registration and licensing before moving to a new state. Visit the USA.gov Motor Vehicle Services page for links to state-specific websites.

Rhode Island State law requires you to have sufficient liability insurance and a valid driver's license in order to operate a vehicle. The term "vehicle" generally includes automobiles, motorcycles, vans, trailers and boats regularly parked or garaged overnight. Further, your vehicle must be properly registered. Even though you are in the Military, you may be required to register your vehicle in-state and obtain an in-state license within a few months of moving. Access complete information on insurance, driver's licensing, and where and how to register your vehicle by visiting the State Department of Motor Vehicles website.

Finally, the State of Rhode Island also requires safety and emission inspections on vehicles registered in Rhode Island. Access complete information about Rhode Island's vehicle inspection program at the State Emissions and Safety Testing website.

Vehicle Registration

One of your primary concerns upon reporting aboard will be to obtain authorization to bring your vehicle(s) aboard the complex. During working hours this authorization will be issued at the Main Pass Office located in building 1377 (prior to approaching Gate 1 on Luce Avenue). If reporting after working hours, passes for 24 to 72 hours may be obtained at either Gate 1 or Gate 17.

Certification by signature on Non-Government Vehicle Registration Form (OPNAV 5560/1) is required, signifying that you will abide by all traffic, security, and parking regulations and that you will possess an insurance policy that meets Rhode Island requirements of $25,000 bodily injury liability per person, $50,000 bodily injury liability per accident, and $10,000 personal property liability.

Certification by signature also must be made relieving the government of liability for loss or damage not attributable to negligence of employees on official duty.

If operating a rental vehicle the rental agreement will suffice as the base access pass accompanied by a valid authorized ID.

Violations of state and local traffic laws may result in suspension of Naval Station driving privileges.

Installation Regulations and Registration

Traffic -- Speed limit on base is 20 mph unless otherwise posted, and 15 mph through housing. Radar is used randomly. Seat belts are mandatory. This is enforced on board Naval Station Newport at all times.

Vehicle Checks -- Vehicles entering or exiting the naval complex are subject to administrative inspections via various methods approved by the Installation Commander.

State and Local Laws

State and local laws regulate the operation of motor vehicles, and these laws can vary by location. Many states regulate the following:

- Seatbelt use
- Child safety seats
- Motorcycle operation
- The use of cellphones and other digital devices while driving

Learn more about motor vehicle laws in your state at the Distraction.gov State Laws page.

You and your passengers must always wear seatbelts while driving, you will be ticketed and issued heavy fines if seatbelts are not secured. State law requires that all children under 6 years of age, 80 pounds and 54" in height be properly restrained in child seats. Some states also require younger, smaller children to sit in the back seat.

Motorcycles and their operators are subject to special laws. If you own and operate a motorcycle, you must comply with those laws. Visit the State Department of Motor Vehicles website for more information.

Many States and local jurisdictions have strict laws about the use of cell phones and other digital devices while driving. Research these laws on the State Department of Motor Vehicles website and the General Laws of the State of Rhode Island website. Tickets will be issued and fines assessed for violating these laws. Play it safe and always use a "hands free" device if you must use a cell phone or other PDA while driving. Hands-free devices must be used while operating a motor vehicle on ALL military installations worldwide. However, texting while operating a motor vehicle and the use of headsets, earphones or other earpiece devices are prohibited by law in the State.
