Many professions have used Portfolios as a collection of visual samples of a candidate’s work, e.g. sketches, pictures, or sculpture. However, when applied to the counseling or prevention field, portfolios contain descriptive information. This type of Portfolio indicates the candidate’s job-related knowledge and skills, and usually includes the following components:

- Work Experience
- Formal Training and Education
- Structured Experiences

This document has been designed and developed to be compatible with and an introduction to the International Certification & Reciprocity Consortium/Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (IC&RC/AODA) International Certification Standards. The following sections contain sample forms and application materials necessary for reciprocal certification or recertification.

The Certified Prevention Specialist (CPS) is an individual who has demonstrated competence related to alcohol, tobacco and drug prevention and who provides services that build capacities of individuals and systems to promote healthy environments, lifestyles and communities. The CPS certification is a stand alone credential, not dependent on training or experience as a counselor in the drug and alcohol field. In fact, many personnel trained as drug and alcohol counselors have difficulty fully shifting their focus from the performance of the counselor Core Functions to performance in the prevention domains. IC&RC/AODA considers individuals certified at the CPS level as meeting minimum international entry-level standards for prevention professionals. This credential, like the ADC II and CCS credentials, is reciprocal to other IC&RC/AODA boards.

The U.S. Navy Certification Board (USNCB), as a member of IC&RC/AODA, has jurisdiction only over those individuals working for the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps where performance of prevention related duties is included in the applicant’s job description. Once certified, an individual may maintain their certification with the USNCB, only as long as they remain on active duty, or for civilians, remain working for the Department of the Navy.
ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Code of Ethics for Prevention Professionals

Preamble:

The Principles of Ethics are models of standards of exemplary professional conduct. These principles of the code of Ethical Conduct for Prevention professionals express the professional's recognition of responsibilities to the public, to service recipients, and to colleagues. They guide members in the performance of their professional responsibilities and express the basic tenets of ethical and professional conduct. The Principles call for commitment to honorable behavior, even at the sacrifice of personal advantage.

These principles should not be regarded as limitations or restrictions, but as goals toward which Prevention Professionals should constantly strive. They are guided by core values and competencies that have emerged with the development of the field.

Principles

I. Non-Discrimination

Prevention Professional shall not discriminate against service recipients or colleagues based on race, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, economic condition, or physical, medical or mental disability. Prevention professionals should broaden their understanding and acceptance of cultural and individual differences, and in so doing, render services and provide information sensitive to those differences.

II. Competence

A Prevention Professional shall observe the profession’s technical and ethical standards, strive continually to improve personal competence and quality of service delivery, and discharge professional responsibility to the best of his ability. Competence is derived from a synthesis of education and experience. It begins with the mastery of a body of knowledge and skill competencies. The maintenance of competence requires a commitment to learning and professional improvement that must continue throughout the professional’s life.

a. Professionals should be diligent in discharging responsibilities. Diligence imposes the responsibility to render services carefully and promptly, to be thorough, and to observe applicable technical and ethical standards.

b. Due care requires professionals to plan and supervise adequately and evaluate, to the extent possible, any professional activity for which they are responsible.

c. Prevention Professionals should recognize limitations and boundaries of competence and not use techniques or offer services outside of their competence. Professionals are responsible for assessing the adequacy of their own competence for the responsibility to be assumed.
All entries must be legible

d. Ideally Prevention Professionals should be supervised by another more highly qualified Prevention Professional. When this is not available a Preventionist should seek mentoring from other competent Prevention Professionals or AODA clinical supervisors with prevention experience.

e. When Prevention Professionals have knowledge of unethical conduct or practice on the part of an agency or prevention professional, they have an ethical responsibility to report the conduct or practices to appropriate funding or regulatory bodies or to the public.

f. Prevention Professionals should recognize the effect of impairment on professional performance and should be willing to seek appropriate treatment for themselves.

III. Integrity

To maintain and broaden public confidence, Prevention Professionals should perform all responsibilities with the highest sense of integrity. Personal gain and advantage should not subordinate service and the public trust. Integrity can accommodate the inadvertent error and the honest difference of opinion. It cannot accommodate deceit or subordination of principle.

a. All information should be presented fairly and accurately. Each professional should document and assign credit to all contributing sources used in published material or public statements.

b. Prevention Professionals should not misrepresent either directly or by implication professional qualifications or affiliations.

c. Where there is evidence of impairment in a colleague or a service recipient, a Prevention professional should be supportive of assistance or treatment.

d. A Prevention Professional should not be associated directly or indirectly with any service, product, individual, or organization in a way that is misleading.

IV. Nature of Services

Practices shall do no harm to service recipients. Services provided by Prevention professionals shall be respectful and nonexploitive.

a. Services should be provided in a way that preserves the protective factors inherent in each culture and individual.

b. Prevention Professionals should use formal and informal structures to receive and incorporate input from service recipients in the development, implementation and evaluation of prevention services.
The forms contained in this Portfolio are originals. Please make sufficient copies prior to use!

All entries must be legible

c. Where there is suspicion of abuse of children or vulnerable adults, the Prevention Professional shall report the evidence to the appropriate agency and follow up to ensure that appropriate action has been taken.

V. Confidentiality

Confidential information acquired during service delivery shall be safeguarded from disclosure, including - but not limited to - verbal disclosure, unsecured maintenance of records, or recording of an activity or presentation without appropriate releases.

VI. Ethical Obligations for Community and Society

According to their consciences, Prevention Professionals should be proactive on public policy and legislative issues. The public welfare and the individual’s right to services and personal wellness should guide the efforts of Prevention Professionals to educate the general public and policy makers. Prevention Professionals should adopt a personal and professional stance that promotes well-being.

These ethical standards are adapted from those of the National Association of Prevention Professionals and Advocates (NAPPA).

Performance Domains of the Prevention Specialist:

Certified Prevention Specialist (CPS) competence is based on demonstrated proficiency in the five domains identified in the 1999 Role Delineation Study conducted by the International Certification & Reciprocity Consortium/Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (IC&RC/AODA). The five domains and associated tasks are listed in the following tables. The certification process is one measure of competence. Addiction professionals are not required to be experts in all these functions, but should have knowledge and awareness of all the domains and must be able to demonstrate competence in an appropriate number of these areas. This form not only serves to represent an evaluation of the preventionist’s competence, but also as a means of documenting the required hours of supervision. A total of 120 hours of Supervised Practicum must be documented on this form with a minimum of 10 hours in each of the five performance domains.

Table Instructions:

- Each evaluator, if more than one, must have observed the intern for a minimum of at least ninety days.
- It is highly recommended that the different evaluators use separate copies of this Competency Assessment Form. If a single form is used, both evaluators are responsible for ensuring clear differentiation of evaluator input. (e.g., different color ink and distinguishing marks such as “X” and “✔”, etc. should be used to discriminate between evaluators.)
- Hours of Supervised Practicum should be annotated for each domain, not for each task or knowledge area.

Place an ‘X’ in the appropriate Box. Use a 1 as the LOWEST rating, 5 as the HIGHEST and N/O to indicate NOT OBSERVED.
